SAINT ELIZABETH OF THE TRINITY

Please remember, if you are coming to Mass or any gathering at one of our churches, if you are able, please consider parking a little further away from the entrance, leaving the closer spots for those who need to be closer to the door. Thank you!

Thank you for your interest in your church offering!

Our financial commitment is not about 'giving to a need'. Rather, it is more about 'our need to give'. Each one of us has a need to return to the Lord a portion of what the Lord has given us. Thank you for prayerfully considering how much, how often and by what means, you want to contribute to the life and work of your church.

Each week we will try to answer questions surrounding your church offering. If, over the course of the next few bulletins, we don't answer your specific questions, please let us know!

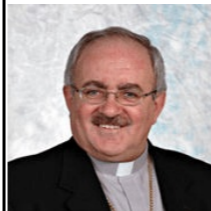

Where does my collection go?

Our collection supports the life and work of the church. Your offering is used for charitable works of the church, faith formation at all ages, pastoral life, parish life and operating expenses of the church. Special Collections support the work of the church locally, nationally and internationally.

If I give by Pre-Authorized Debit (PAD) can I still say where my offering will go?

Yes! You are welcome to make arrangements with the Business Office as to how you would like your offering to be divided!

Let the One Who Hears - Hear! Do the parables as recorded in the Gospels have Such questions will be discussed as the Christian Development Committee of St. John's United Church, (corner of Alma & Victoria Streets, Moncton) invite you to participate in this year's Advent Bible Study led by Minister Emeritus, Rev. Our next B4B selection for young adults 19-39 will be Little Bee, by Chris Cleave. It is a dual narrative about a Nigerian asylum-seeker and a British magazine editor. The novel examines the treatment of refugees by the asylum system, as well as issues of British colonialism, globalization, political violence and personal accountability. We will meet to discuss the book on Sat, Nov 25th at 10:00 a.m. location TBA.

The Gospel of Mark - The Puzzling Story of Jesus

Join Dr. Andrew Wilson on Saturday, November 25th at Holy Family Church Hall from 9:00 am to 3:30 pm as he provides a glimpse of the Jesus presented in Mark's Gospel. He will explore such questions as: Why do the disciples in Mark's Gospel constantly miss the point? Is a 'Markan Sandwich' a first century luncheon? Given that on December 3, the First Sunday of Advent, the Church begins her New Year, and for the next liturgical year we will primarily hear the Gospel of Mark, this session will offer insights into that Gospel. Cost of the session is $12. Dr. Wilson's entertaining style and depth of knowledge has made him a popular presenter for the Office of Faith Development. Pre-registration is necessary by November 22, and may be done by contacting Ellen. Lunch will be provided.

Exploring Our Faith

Acing the Test

In my twenties and thirties, I experienced a recurring dream wherein I was back at J.M.A. Armstrong High School in Salisbury, except my current adult age, and I would find myself sitting in an otherwise empty classroom, waiting to take a test. Unconcerned about the obvious question of why I was taking a High School test at the age of 30, I would ask myself in the dream, "How am I supposed to write this test? I am 100% unprepared for it. How did this happen?"

As you may already know, dreams of being unprepared for tests in various forms are common. They are so common, some neuroscientists have offered explanations for why they may occur, such as anxiety over unachieved goals, paths not taken, missed opportunities, regrets over past actions, etc. In fact, the more I read about these dreams, the more I did not like what I was learning because they suggested some kind of tension between the expectations I (and others) had for my life and the way my life was unfolding. Everything was perfect, how dare I dream otherwise?

People studying human behaviour have a field day with this kind of stuff, but my point here is knowing that unpleasant feeling of being unprepared for an event that is both important and imminent. You might have experienced something similar if you have ever walked into a presentation or meeting unprepared for what was expected of you. Now, compare that to the feeling you experience when walking into a test, presentation, or meeting having prepared for it to the best of your ability. While you may still experience nervousness, you know you are ready for what lies before you, and the difference between being prepared and being unprepared is like night and day.

With Jesus' precaution to "Keep awake therefore, for you know neither the day nor the hour" we are invited to maintain a posture of ever-readiness for encountering our Christ, our God. Ron Rolheiser suggests Jesus is telling us to "Wake up! Wake up before death wakes you up." During the upcoming season of Advent, we will be encouraged to wake up to the commercialism of our culture, and to all that which distracts us from preparing ourselves for encountering the divine. Preparedness in 2017 involves forging a spiritual space that goes beyond the superficiality of what our culture calls us to be, and draws us into a deeper relationship with our God. Not only does this "nurture strength of spirit to shield (us) in sudden misfortune," as Max Ehrmann wrote in Desiderata, but it also helps us to recognize that Jesus lives among us right now.

"Watch with glittering eyes the whole world around you, because the greatest secrets are always hidden in the most unlikely places. Those who don't believe in magic will never find it."
