The Bible Time Line:

The Story of Salvation

We will again be offering a wonderful bible study that, over the past four years, has already been enjoyed by groups at Saint Elizabeth of the Trinity and St. Bernard's. This bible study will be offered over the next two years at 7 pm on the first and third Thursdays at Holy Family Church beginning October 5th. Cost is $25 as partial payment for course materials.

To register, please call 386-6178 (maximum of 12 participants).

Deadline for registration: September 14th.

As you explore salvation history-from its beginning in Genesis through the coming of Christ and the establishment of the Catholic Church, you will see how God's loving plan for humanity has unfolded, resulting in a greater love for God and a deeper appreciation for your faith. You will:

- Read fourteen narrative books of the Bible and discover the amazing story woven throughout Scripture
- Learn how the key people, places, and events in the Bible fit together to reveal God's plan for humanity
- See how the events in the Old Testament are fulfilled in the New Testament by Christ and the Church
- Study the Bible from a Catholic perspective and see how our faith is rooted in Sacred Scripture
- And more!

Exploring Our Faith

"Love is the fulfilling of the law."

Our children were born with a warm, brown skin tone somewhere between my husband's darker skin and my own pale skin. Our oldest daughter once joked to a friend that she was the "cappuccino" created by coffee and milk. We were blessed, that even though our children were born into the predominately Caucasian community of Moncton, their slightly exotic name and skin tone were rarely a cause for abuse. Only once did our daughter come home from school and inform us that another student in her class has angrily told her to "go back to where you came from." Her teacher, overhearing the comment, quickly defused the hurtful moment by turning it into a teachable moment. Within minutes the teacher had the children discovering that everyone in the class had roots from "somewhere else," and that this is what gives Canada its wonderful strength and rich heritage. The teacher's reaction could be used as a parable for today's Scripture readings.

In the First Reading, Ezekiel minces no words when he tells us that we must always be alert to evil, and that we are all responsible for confronting it. We may not always be able to change a person's destructive attitudes or actions, but if we fail to act or to speak out against it then we, too, are guilty of its consequences.

In the gospel, Jesus tells his disciples that if someone within the community of faith does something sinful, then they are to quietly point it out to them. If the person refuses to amend their behaviour, the disciples are to get others to help in the effort. If the accused still refuses to change their attitude and behaviour, then the community leaders are to speak out clearly against the injustice. The accused can then no longer claim ignorance as an excuse and is responsible to God for their actions.

Over and over, we are taught in Scripture that being a baptized disciple of Christ is not for "wusses." It takes a great deal of courage to speak out against injustice both as individuals and as leaders of our faith communities, but inaction is not an option! When we do speak out, we are reminded to avoid equally harmful actions and attitudes of finger pointing or angry retaliation. As Jesus tells us, we must discern all actions through the eyes of mercy and compassion and through the help of a community in prayer. As St. Paul tells us in the Second Reading, we fulfill the commandments when we work against injustice while firmly rooted in the love of Christ, for "love does no wrong to a neighbour." News worthy acts of violence and abuse begin with small attitudes of hate that went unchecked, unchallenged. Our duty as baptized Christians is to work toward the dignity of all humanity; always vigilant that even the smallest acts, words and attitudes have the power to violate God's beloved creation.
