The St. Elizabeth of the Trinity parish grouping acknowledges that we carry out our worship and ministry on the traditional unceded territory of the Mi'kmaq and Wəlastəkwiyik (Maliseet) Peoples. This territory is covered by the "Treaties of Peace and Friendship" which these nations first signed with the British Crown in 1726.

The treaties did not deal with surrender of lands and resources but, in fact, recognized Mi'kmaq and Wəlastəkwiyik title and established the rules for what was to be an ongoing relationship between nations.

Food Banks

Updated

Holy Family Church (House of Nazareth) - They need razors for men and women, toothbrushes, and any food items.

Holy Ghost and Immaculate Heart of Mary (Albert County Food Bank) – They need items for children's lunches, like juice boxes, pudding cups and applesauce. There is also a great need for cereal. (all kinds)

St. Jude's (Salisbury Helping Hands Food Bank) – Right now, they need snack items for the children (cheese strings, applesauce, fruit cups, juice boxes, etc). Thank you everyone!

Did you know? Jesus reverses the social order; he reminds people of the qualities God treasures, rather than those valued by most of humanity. Human beings are prone to jealousy, competition and measures of greatness. God values humility, love, servanthood and goodness. Servanthood is a hallmark of Christian life. The pope is called the "Servant of the Servants of God". God calls us to serve one another. The greatest shall be least and the least, greatest. Instead of power bringing greatness, humility brings greatness.

Exploring Our Faith

GRATEFUL, THANKFUL, BLESSED

Today's gospel relates the story of Jesus and the 10 lepers. Jesus heard their prayer, their cry of mercy and sent them immediately to the priests (who were designated by law, to certify healings that had occurred). Those 10 lepers trusted; they did not remain there until they were cured, no: they trusted and went immediately and, while on their way, they were cured. Only one of the lepers - a Samaritan, returned to thank Jesus for healing him. This narrative, according to Pope Francis, "so to speak, divides the world in two: those who do not give thanks and those who do; those who take everything as if it is owed them, and those who welcome everything as a gift, a grace."

This weekend, coincidentally, is Thanksgiving weekend for us. I remember as a child, making a paper turkey on construction paper with 'feathers' for its tail. On each feather was the name of someone or something that I was grateful for, and I took it home to be displayed on our fridge, as a reminder that we all should be thankful for what we have. My 'thanksgiving feathers' were simple at the time but made me realize that I was blessed to have people in my life who loved me and basic comforts that others did not have. The world has changed since my innocent childhood with many complexities, challenges and impediments that interfere with coping with daily life. Patrick Goodness wrote, 'when we give thanks for our homes and material comforts, we are challenged to recognize those who are left without. When we give thanks for our families and friends, we call to mind those who are alone and forgotten, the lonely, the orphaned. When we give thanks for our freedom, we dutifully acknowledge those who live under the harsh rule of oppression and injustice. Truly, it is in this act of giving thanks that we recognize our responsibility to affect positive change in the world.'

Pope Francis said: "Above all, let us not forget to thank: if we are bearers of gratitude, the world itself will become better, even if only a little bit, but that is enough to transmit a bit of hope. The world needs hope. And, with gratitude, with this habit of saying Thank You, we transmit a bit of hope. Everything is united and everything is connected, and everyone needs to do his or her part, wherever we are."

I was fortunate to grow up with parents who often reminded my sister and me that if we wish to live in a kind world, we must offer kindness to others. "Thank You" was a commonly used phrase in our house. I have tried to continue this legacy of gratitude to my children and now I know it continues. My granddaughter, who just turned 3, out of nowhere while we were babysitting the other night, said, "Thank you, Nanny. I love you." A legacy of gratitude continues.

I'll end this "Thanksgiving theme" reflection with words from a poster I copied down years ago. Let us be aware of our own gratitude this Thanksgiving and pray our 'bit of hope' will remain forever.

Thanks to those who hated me - you made me stronger
Thanks to those who loved me - you made my heart grow fonder
Thanks to those who cared - you made me feel important
Thanks to those who entered into my life - you made me who I am today
Thanks to those who left - you showed me that nothing lasts forever
Thanks to those who stayed - you showed me true friendship
Thanks to those who listened - you made me feel like I was worth it.

Liturgical Ministry Workshops - We start doing workshops for our liturgical ministries this coming week. These workshops will not only be for existing ministers but also for new people who would like to become involved. Throughout Covid our liturgical practices changed out of necessity, but it seems we are returning to some sort of normalcy, so revisiting our standard practices will be a good thing. The dates, times and places for these workshops are as follows:

Communion Ministers: Thursday, October 13th, 6:30 p.m. at Holy Family
Altar Servers: Saturday, October 15th, 10:00 a.m. at Immaculate Heart of Mary
New Date! → Lectors: Tuesday, October 18th, 6:30 p.m. at Holy Family

These workshops are for ministers, both current and new, from all four of our churches.

Cathy Kennedy Lending Library

"Love the Lord your God with all your mind."

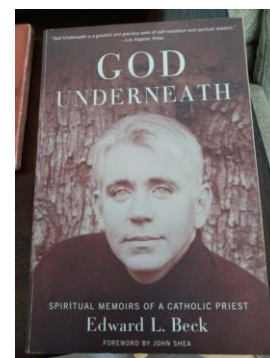

Biographies and Journals in the "Cathy Kennedy Lending Library" at Immaculate Heart of Mary Church. This gem is autobiographical tracing Edward's life from working in the stock market in New York City, to his ultimate calling as a priest. Here is a quote. "Relationships don't always fit into the neat categories that exist in my head. They're a lot messier. It's hard for me to compartmentalize intimacy into: acceptable and unacceptable, appropriate and inappropriate, because I don't love that way—and I don't know many people who do. I have one heart and its chambers aren't labelled. And sometimes that gets me into trouble."

Spiritually speaking, gratitude is central to the Gospel message and Thanksgiving Day presents us with the perfect opportunity to look at this important part of our faith.

RCIA – Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults

When people asked Jesus about His way of life, He told them to "come and see" (John 1:38-39). He taught these followers His way of life through stories, teachings, questions, and experiences. He gave them opportunities to commit themselves to Him more deeply until they could say with St. Paul, "the life I live now is not my own; Christ lives in me" (Galatians 2:20). The early Church followed Jesus' example, inviting inquirers to "come and see", teaching them and leading them through stages of commitment to a new life in Christ. This is RCIA, the process of initiation used by Jesus and by the early Church, adapted to meet today's needs.

RCIA stands for "Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults". RCIA requires a modest commitment in time, but we think you will find the process a lot easier than you might expect. In addition, we have found that everyone who becomes involved, young or old, finds it to be a wonderful experience.

An invitation is extended to...

- those who are unbaptized, adults and children, ages 7 and up
- those baptized in the Catholic Church, but have not received the sacraments of Eucharist and/or Confirmation
- those baptized in another Christian Church, who have had little to no faith development and are interested in learning more about the Catholic Church

We generally meet every two weeks on Sunday evenings from 6:30-8:00 p.m. for sharing, teaching, and questions. RCIA helps a person become acquainted with the liturgical life of the church and the faith community before making a commitment to the Church. You are welcome to join us at any time throughout the year.

To find out more, please contact the parish office at 386-6178.

Parish Council - We recently held our first parish council meeting of the new pastoral year. We would like to welcome Doug Wilson back, who is resuming his role as Chairperson. Also, we are losing three members who have given generously of themselves for several years. Angela Ricker, Nicole McNichol, and Polly Mulligan have decided to leave Council and we would like to offer our heartfelt thanks for their tireless efforts in making Holy Family a wonderful parish to call home and a prayerful place to worship. With losing three people from our ranks, we will need replacements and so will be looking to hold an election in the near future. If you would like to serve on council or would like to nominate someone to serve on council, please submit the name or names to the parish office or to any current member of council by Monday, October 24th. Holy Family has had strong leadership for many years, and we know we will for years to come. May God bless and guide you as you discern this ministry.
