The St. Elizabeth of the Trinity parish grouping acknowledges that we carry out our worship and ministry on the traditional unceded territory of the Mi'kmaq and Wəlastəkwiyik (Maliseet) Peoples. This territory is covered by the "Treaties of Peace and Friendship" which these nations first signed with the British Crown in 1726.

The treaties did not deal with surrender of lands and resources but, in fact, recognized Mi'kmaq and Wəlastəkwiyik title and established the rules for what was to be an ongoing relationship between nations.

Did You Know?

Christ draws us closer to the Father by way of love. As we love Jesus, so the Father loves us, and this guides our prayer. The Word of Christ was spread by people who believed and shared the Word with others, teaching each other as well. The believers, Apollos, Priscilla, and Aquila taught and strengthened each other, as they spread the Word.

Through the Sacrament of Holy Baptism, we welcome,

Gio Allister, beloved son of Gino and Genevieve

Dakota Rose, beloved daughter of Stephen and Alycia Marie

May the grace and blessings received at Baptism guide each of you throughout your lives, and may this holy occasion bring your families great joy.

God bless you little ones – beautiful children of God!

Confirmation 2023

Today, Sunday, May 14th, eight young men and women from St. Elizabeth of the Trinity and one young woman from The Good Shepherd parish grouping, will celebrate the Sacrament of Confirmation! They have now completed their initiation into the Roman Catholic Church which began with their Baptism. These young people have spent this year journeying in a special way with their peers and while many people have led them to this point in their faith journey, many more will influence them as they continue on. If we have been successful in preparing them for this sacrament, they now have an understanding of the role that God plays in our lives. They have the courage to live as children of God and the wisdom and knowledge to discern the presence of the Holy Spirit. They will use their judgement to make good choices throughout their lives and see wonder and awe in the ordinary. May the grace of this sacrament fill them with reverence, and may they feel the unconditional loving presence of God throughout their lives.

"The Jesus of the Gospels did not move from being the historical Jesus to the living Christ without dying, and we ourselves don't move from our independent body without dying to our false self or to who we think we are, and that feels like dying. In turn we are, indeed, and altogether, the living, risen body of Christ." (Taken from HEART AND MIND OF THE COSMOS by Carmel Higgins.) Colleen

Exploring Our Faith

COME AND HEAR WHAT GOD HAS DONE

*Make a joyful noise to God, all the earth!
Sing the glory of his name;
Give to him glorious praise.
Say to God, "How awesome are your deeds."*

Three years ago, most of us dreamed of this past week. We didn't know when it would come, but we thought that when it did, we would all be out dancing in the streets. We expected to be living the words of today's Psalm as we shouted thanks and sang praises to God. But the silence was far louder than the gratitude. This week the World Health Organization declared that Covid 19 is no longer a global emergency, and most of us barely noticed. So many prayers have been answered and yet we are more aware of what we don't have than of what we have been given.

Somehow that seems like a fitting metaphor for my faith in the sixth week of Easter. All through Lent I gave extra attention to prayer and fasting, identifying broken places in my life and turning to God. On Holy Thursday and Good Friday, I felt like I had accepted my human vulnerability and my human limits. When Easter came, I was filled with a renewed sense of wonder and hope. I felt myself to be a small child tenderly carried in the loving hands of God. In my vulnerability, I felt safe and protected. I started into the Easter season ready to live in gratitude, appreciating the gift of life in every moment in such a way that joy would spill over onto all those around me. Easter Sunday night, even as I cried with someone dear to me, I knew that God brings beauty out of suffering and life out of death, and I knew that life is good even when it's not going the way I want it to go.

But as the days wore on my focus started to shift again. The farther away I was from Good Friday and Easter Sunday, the easier it was for me to forget that they are a pair. Instead of watching for Christ in the midst of suffering, I slipped back to thinking that he would be in places without suffering, which meant that I was not finding him. And when it came to this week, instead of seeing the wonder of our God who has brought us through the pandemic into a time without a health emergency, I have seen a society and a health system that have been exhausted and fragmented by a pandemic.

It is from this place that I read Jesus' promise in today's gospel that even though the world will not be able to see him, we will see him if we keep his commandment to love. I cannot see Jesus if I look for him in "safe places" standing on his own in glory, all the suffering overcome. I can, however, see him if I enter the difficult places and choose to love as he did, even when it is not easy. In those moments when I accept the vulnerability of unconditional love, I see Jesus because I am in him and he in me.

And finally, I can see it: the miracle is not that the pandemic is over. The miracle is that God was with us all the way through the pandemic and if we were listening, he used the pandemic to teach us more about love. "He turned the sea into dry land; they passed through the river on foot. There we rejoiced in him, who rules by his might forever."

Prayer

Prayer Day

Please note that Wednesday Prayer Day is back to its full schedule. There had been some changes through Lent, but now things are back to normal. It begins immediately following 9 a.m. Mass and goes until 4 in the afternoon. If you can offer an hour of your time to sit with the Blessed Sacrament, please contact Janet at 506-386-3184.

Ministry – How Are You Called to Serve?

Over the next few weeks, you will see a series of announcements talking about the various ministries in our church. We invite you to look at these and perhaps prayerfully discern how best you can use your gifts to serve God and God's people. This week we would like to begin by looking at the role of catechist. Here is a brief, yet fairly accurate definition of what it means to be a catechist:

A Catechist is one who witnesses to the faith by sharing his/her faith commitment through word, experience, prayer, and liturgy.

We are always in need of people who can help in our catechetical program for families as well as adult faith formation processes such as the R.C.I.A. If you have thought in the past that this may be something you have gifts for but felt you didn't have the qualifications, please know that formation will be provided. If you just come with an open mind and a willingness to serve and to share your gifts, we can both take that and run. If you think of your faith journey, it is likely that those who passed on their faith to you did not have a masters in theology. They just knew some good news that was too good to keep to themselves. If you would like more information, please reach out to Mark or Karen at the office.
