The St. Elizabeth of the Trinity parish grouping acknowledges that we carry out our worship and ministry on the traditional unceded territory of the Mi'kmaq and Wəlastəkwiyik (Maliseet) Peoples. This territory is covered by the "Treaties of Peace and Friendship" which these nations first signed with the British Crown in 1726.

The treaties did not deal with surrender of lands and resources but, in fact, recognized Mi'kmaq and Wəlastəkwiyik title and established the rules for what was to be an ongoing relationship between nations.

Did You Know?

The nature of the Church's ministry emerges in today's first reading from Acts. In response to the continued growth of the early Church, the apostles choose seven men, filled with the Holy Spirit, to share their ministry of service and the role of deacon emerges. Preaching (leading people in worship of God) and service (caring for the poor) are the two foundational pillars of ministry.

In his first letter, Peter identifies the Risen Lord as a 'living stone' chosen by God the Father, as the cornerstone of the spiritual house where we, his followers, become 'living stones'. In spiritual unity with the Risen Christ, we are 'a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people of His Own'. Matthew 2:9

From these readings, and today's Gospel, emerge a deeper understanding of Jesus and of our identity. Jesus is the human face of God, as Pope Benedict XVI described him in his encyclicals, Saved in Hope and Charity of Truth. As God's chosen race, we follow Jesus, the Way, to our eternal home.

(Pg 196, SourceBook 2023)

Exploring Our Faith

DARKNESS

My friend Byron was a 'White Father' missionary to Africa in one of his lives. He told me of one remote tribe there, who had no problem with the movement of the sun across the sky. How did the sun get back east to rise again? Why, it went back the same way across the sky, but "we can't see it because it is dark at night." Scientists today also noticed it is dark at night, so they explain it with the Big Bang Theory. Between these two 'theories' were millennia of brilliant intellectuals attempting to explain our place in the heavens. One attempt we know well, came out of Babylon some 2500 years ago. There, a Priest of the Exile wrote an introduction to the Bible (which had been collated there when the leaders of the Twelve Tribes of Israel were thrown together.) In that Hymn of Creation, he credited God with creating the natural world, as it was known at that time. This included the astronomy of the day, with the waters above and the waters below upon which the sun rode around the world. It also posited a biology of 'genos' which was a clearly defined and separate nature for every living being. That flat world with the sun going over and under it and a Natural Law that defined every living being as unrelated and defined by its own seed, lasted well into our Middle Ages. The telescope changed everything, as did the microscope.

Pope Francis' apology to Native Americans refers to a decision made in Europe at the time of Columbus. At that time, the Grand Inquisitor had enormous power, supposedly to protect the Faith. In 1492, he expelled all Jews from the lands of Ferdinand and Isabella, including their possessions, based on their lack of 'Faith'. We know that the Inquisition also targeted women. Why? It was scientifically agreed that women were inferior to men, being mere nurturers of the seed rather than, like men, carrying the God-given seed of procreation. The 'Natural Law' deemed that women should be submissive to men (fathers and husbands). Women who were not submissive, who led independent lives, went against nature and the Creator of Nature. At that time, after Columbus returned, it was easy to include natives of the 'New Lands' as inferior, based on their lack of faith and a culture that actually allowed women to hold positions of authority.

St. Peter, a married man, wrote in today's lesson, "You are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, God's own people in order that you may proclaim the mighty acts of Him who called you out of darkness into his marvelous light." Today, after Pope Francis' apology, Native Catholic women along with all other Catholic women are still regarded as inferior and unworthy to share in the royal priesthood, even through marriage. How does that restriction honour my Creator?

Like a dandelion root that is not completely removed, the double standard within the Catholic clergy, leads to more injustice.

Cathy Kennedy Lending Library

"Love the Lord your God with all your mind."

The library will soon be full to bursting! Donations have made it possible to open up several new categories, including DVDs and magazines, even some French language and large-print books. Thank you all very much!

A couple of housekeeping requests...please do not donate directly to the shelves, as the inventory is catalogued now. Same with any books you are browsing, just leave them in the return section beside the desk and I will be happy to re-shelve for you, as all books are now in order. All the piles in the bottom shelves are not available as of yet, but soon! Once I catch up with the practicalities of organizing, there will be weekly previews and reviews, etc. and then, it will be onto expanding and organizing availability. Stay tuned!

Knights of Columbus

During the Lenten Season, the Knights of Columbus once again, asked parishioners for a small sacrifice on their part that would be turned into a big difference for the poor. That sacrifice was to donate the equivalent of 1 can of food for each of the 40 days of Lent and our parishioners responded magnificently!

This year we collected 565 lbs of food, $1,428 in cash and $250 in grocery cards. Oh my gosh, people – absolutely amazing!!

We sincerely appreciate your support in helping the less fortunate. God bless you all.
