Saint Elizabeth of the Trinity

We acknowledge that we carry out our worship on the unceded, ancestral territory of the Indigenous peoples of Atlantic Canada, the Mi'kmaq and the Wəlastəkwiyik (Maliseet). Our relationship and our privilege to live on this territory was agreed upon in the Peace and Friendship Treaties of 1752, and so it is to be acknowledged that we are all Treaty people, having a responsibility to respect this territory.

Do not fear those who kill the body. Matthew 10.26-33

Lord Hear Our Prayers We pray for the sick, and those who are awaiting or recovering from surgery, those receiving treatment and those needing strength including Heather Ayles , Marven Buckley (husband of Dianne) , Trevor Droesbeck, Irene MacIssac (friend of Mandy Noble) , and Dora Power (niece of Marie Pike)
and for those who have died including Shirley Murray (sister of Carol Gautreau) and Charlie O'Hara (father of Teresa) and for those who mourn the loss of a loved one.

Did you know?
 God always knows what is in our hearts. God understands our intentions: sometimes we want to do what is right, but we don't. God will help us if we ask Him.
 (p.170, SB 2024)

June 21, 2026 marks the 30th anniversary of National Indigenous Peoples Day. This day recognizes and celebrates the cultures, traditions, and contributions of First Nations, Inuit, and Métis peoples.

Observed on the summer solstice, National Indigenous Peoples Day falls on the longest day of the year. For generations, many First Nations, Inuit, and Métis communities have marked this time by celebrating their languages, cultures, and traditions. For many Indigenous Peoples, the summer solstice carries deep spiritual and cultural meaning as a time of renewal, connection, and celebration

Annual Collection for the Indigenous Reconciliation Fund

I would like to express my sincere gratitude for your great generosity during last year's fourth collection, which enabled our diocese to raise $10,627.97. A big thank you to all the faithful who contributed, as well as to those who organized fundraising activities.

The Catholic bishops of Canada have committed to raising $30 million from 2022 through 2026. We have reached our final collection this year, as the five-year period will conclude in early fall 2026. The funds are managed by a national board of directors composed of leaders, half of whom are Indigenous. This Board is responsible for implementing measures to ensure the proper functioning and transparency of the administration of the funds raised.

I am pleased to inform you that the funds collected in our parishes over the past five years will be used for local projects in collaboration with our four Mi'gmaq communities: Elsipogtog First Nation, Bouctouche Mi'kmaq, Fort Folly First Nation, and Indian Island First Nation.

Special envelopes will be distributed to parishes for this collection, which will take place on June 27 and 28. I invite you to continue supporting this fund. Thank you again for your spirit of solidarity with our Indigenous brothers and sisters and for the generous contributions you have made over the past five years.

Mgr Guy Desrochers, C.Ss.R.

Metropolitan Archbishop of Moncton

Special envelopes are distributed to parishes for this collection, which will take place next weekend, June 27 and 28. I invite you to continue supporting this fund. Thank you again for your spirit of solidarity with our Indigenous brothers and sisters and for the generous contributions
If you are donating by check, please make it payable to the parish. Thank You!

REFLECTIONS: ON FRIENDSHIP

By C.S. Lewis Institute on Reflections, C.S. Lewis Institute

In our own time Friendship arises in the same way. For us of course the shared activity and therefore the companionship on which Friendship supervenes will not often be a bodily one like hunting or fighting. It may be a common religion, common studies, a common profession, even a common recreation. All who share it will be our companions; but one or two or three who share something more will be our Friends. In this kind of love, as Emerson said, Do you love me? means Do you see the same truth?—Or at least, “Do you care about the same truth?” The man who agrees with us that some question, little regarded by others, is of great importance, can be our Friend. He need not agree with us about the answer...

You become a man's Friend without knowing or caring whether he is married or single or how he earns his living. What have all these “unconcerning things, matters of fact” to do with the real question, Do you see the same truth? In a circle of true Friends each man is simply what he is: stands for nothing but himself. No one cares twopence about anyone else's family, profession, class, income, race, or previous history. Of course you will get to know about most of these in the end. But casually. They will come out bit by bit, to furnish an illustration or an analogy, to serve as pegs for an anecdote; never for their own sake. That is the kingliness of Friendship. We meet like sovereign princes of independent states, abroad, on neutral ground, freed from our contexts...

Lewis observes that as friendships continue over time:

... our reliance, our respect and our admiration blossom into an Appreciative Love of a singularly robust and well-informed kind... In a perfect Friendship this Appreciative Love is, I think, often so great and so firmly based that each member of the circle feels, in his secret heart, humbled before all the rest. Sometimes he wonders what he is doing there among his betters. He is lucky beyond desert to be in such company. Especially when the whole group is together, each bringing out all that is best, wisest, or funniest in all the others. Those are the golden sessions; when four or five of us after a hard day's walking have come to our inn; when our slippers are on, our feet spread out towards the blaze and our drinks at our elbows; when the whole world, and something beyond the world, opens itself to our minds as we talk; and no one has any claim on or any responsibility for another, but all are freemen and equals as if we had first met an hour ago, while at the same time an Affection mellowed by the years enfolds us. Life—natural life—has no better gift to give. Who could have deserved it?²

Do you have the kinds of friendships that Lewis talks about? Are there any activities you would like to begin, or other steps you would like to take, to help begin or develop friendships?

“A friend loves at all times...”
