Saint Elizabeth of the Trinity

We acknowledge that we carry out our worship on the unceded, ancestral territory of the Indigenous peoples of Atlantic Canada, the Mi'kmaq and the Wəlastəkwiyik (Maliseet). Our relationship and our privilege to live on this territory was agreed upon in the Peace and Friendship Treaties of 1752, and so it is to be acknowledged that we are all Treaty people, having a responsibility to respect this territory.

Let both of them grow together until the harvest. Matthew 13.24-33

Lord Hear Our Prayers

We pray for the sick, and those who are awaiting or recovering from surgery, those receiving treatment and those needing strength including

Lillianne Gauvin, Dora Power, Beth Kavanaugh, Monique Burrows, Zach (nephew of Mandy Noble), Jean Guy Roy, Lyla Teed, Elizabeth Lapointe, and Marion MacLean (friend of Debbie);

and for those who have died and for those who mourn the loss of a loved one.

Jesus compares the Kingdom of God to a mustard seed, "the smallest of all seeds on the earth when first planted. From this seed, "the largest of plants takes shape. Life springs forth from its branches. It creates a home for the birds in the sky and many other living things, All this goodness from a small seed. This parable reminds us of the gift of all lives and the need to care for life from conception to natural death. (p. 241, SB 2024)

Integral Ecology

the unfolding of a new vision of living in harmony and peace with all creation

Let's explore the second of the 3 core elements that form
Pope Francis' vision of integral ecology –

#2 – A Holistic (big picture) Perspective

Everything is connected. The human-nature distinction is gone. The physical, biological and chemical connections, matter! And so do our economic, political, technological and social practices – these cannot be separated from the health of the planet.

"We are faced not with two separate crises, one environmental and the other social, but rather with one complex crisis which is both social and environmental".

Pope Francis Laudato Si' (139)

Looking for baptism pictures from the last six years - Do you have photos of Fr Phil with your child that we could add to our wall of fame? THE LOST TRADITION OF CONTEMPLATION

The awesome and even presumptuous message of divinization is found in the Judeo-Christian story of Creation: we are “created in the image and likeness of God” (Genesis 1:27 and 5:2). Many tomes of theology have been written to clarify this claim, and this is theologians’ primary consensus: “Image” is our objective DNA that marks us as creatures of God from the very beginning. “Likeness” is our personal appropriation and gradual realization of this utterly free gift of the image of God. It’s all too easy to recognize our daily unlikeness to God in ourselves and others, so we have a hard time believing this could be true in ourselves or others. But some form of contemplative practice will allow us to rest in and trust this deeper and truest self.

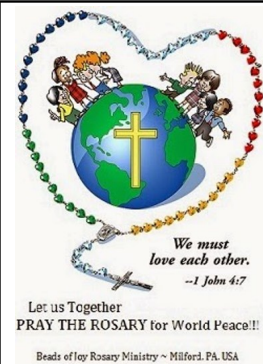

Actually, who you are in God and who God is in you is the only self that has ever existed. It’s the only self that exists right now. The trouble is that most people don’t know it. It’s not their fault; we just have not given them the tools they need to connect with who they really are. The dualistic and argumentative mind will never get you there. Thus we have an identity crisis on a massive scale!

The contemplative mind has not been systematically taught in the West for the last 500 years. The Spanish Carmelites Teresa of Ávila (1515-1582) and John of the Cross (1542-1591) were the last well-known teachers of contemplative awareness in European thought. With the so-called “Enlightenment” and the argumentative Reformation, Western Christianity almost abandoned contemplation in favour of dualistic thinking and its own strange form of “rational” thought, which actually produced fundamentalism in both its Catholic and Protestant forms. Thomas Merton (1915-1968) felt that even monasteries no longer taught the contemplative mind in any systematic way, as monk just “said prayers” with their old dualistic minds. Without contemplation, there is not much depth or interiority to Christianity. It’s just beliefs and belonging systems. This is probably why the Reformation was so necessary. Unfortunately, reacting to unjust or unhealthy systems with only dualistic thinking will produce more of the same.

You cannot know God the way you know everything else; you only know God or the soul of anything subject to subject, center to center, by a process of “mirroring” where like knows like and love knows love—“deep calling upon deep” (Psalm 42:7). The Divine Spirit planted deep inside each of us yearns for and responds to God—and vice versa (see James 4:5). The contemplative is deeply attuned and surrendered to this process.

We are not so much human beings trying to become spiritual. We’re already inherently spiritual beings and our job is learning how to be good humans! I believe that’s why Jesus came as a human being: not to teach us how to go to heaven, but to teach us how to be a fully alive human being here on this earth.

(Quoted from Fr. Richard Rohr)

“The Magnetic Hill Prayer Garden Association will be celebrating a Multilingual International Praying of the Rosary for Unity and Peace in the World, to be held at 6 PM on July 29, 2026, at the Prayer Garden located at Front Mountain Road, Moncton New Brunswick.

All persons, including English and French, as well as from any other linguistic nations and cultures from around the world are invited to attend to recite the rosary in their own language and according to their own customs. All are welcome! Refreshments will be provided following the celebration. For more information, call (506) 871-3912.

Please mark on your calendars! Thank you!”
