Saint Elizabeth of the Trinity

We acknowledge that we carry out our worship on the unceded, ancestral territory of the Indigenous peoples of Atlantic Canada, the Mi'kmaq and the Wəlastəkwiyik (Maliseet). Our relationship and our privilege to live on this territory was agreed upon in the Peace and Friendship Treaties of 1752, and so it is to be acknowledged that we are all Treaty people, having a responsibility to respect this territory.

Anyone who finds a treasure in a field, sells all and buys that field. Matthew 13.44-48

Lord Hear Our Prayers

We pray for the sick, and those who are awaiting or recovering from surgery, those receiving treatment and those needing strength including

Dora Power, Doug Geldart,

Monique Burrows, Zach (nephew of Mandy Noble),

Lyla Teed, Elizabeth Lapointe, and Marion MacLean (friend of Debbie);

and for those who have died

and for those who mourn the loss of a loved one.

God knows what is in our hearts. He sees what we do and why we do it. He opens our heart and hands to serve others. When we do good only so that we might be honoured, we come to value recognition more than the good work, which we should do for its own sake, when we do good without calling attention to it, it does not go unnoticed. God sees what is hidden and appreciates all offerings given in love. (P. 243, SB 2024)

thank you very much!

Let's all be good stewards! Stewardship is more than fundraising; it is a way of life rooted in the belief that all we have and all we are come from God. It calls us to use our gifts and resources responsibly, including our financial blessings. Rather than being limited to money, stewardship is a holistic way of living as a disciple of Christ. It invites each person to embrace a personal vocation and recognize their unique role in God's plan. Through stewardship, Catholics take part in God's work by strengthening the Church and building community.

Stewardship strengthens parish life by:

- Promoting spiritual growth through prayer and service
- Encouraging ministry involvement and a vibrant, service-oriented community
- Supporting financial stability for parish programs and outreach

Fostering shared responsibility and collaboration among parishioners

In essence, Catholic stewardship is a faithful response to God's generosity, weaving prayer, service, and giving into daily life. It renews individuals and communities, helping Catholics live more fully as disciples of Christ and contribute to the mission of the Church. Reach out to the parish office to find out how you can support the life and work of our parish by sharing of your time, making an offering or serving in ministry.

St. Elizabeth of the Trinity

Thank you for your continued support of our food banks!

Integral Ecology

the unfolding of a new vision of living in harmony and peace with all creation

Let's explore the third of the 3 core elements that form
Pope Francis' vision of integral ecology –

#3 – A New and Universal Solidarity

Human development is inseparable from the notion of the common good. Pope Francis wrote, "Where injustices abound and growing numbers of people are deprived of basic human rights and considered expendable, the principle of the common good immediately becomes a summons to solidarity and a preferential option for the poorest of our brothers and sisters" (LS 158).

This justice extends to future generations;
hence, an "intergenerational solidarity"
becomes paramount (LS 159).

Memorial & Special Gifts this Month

Memorial & Special Gifts are a special way to give to the life and works of the church.

THE SECOND GAZE

Contemplation helps us to actually experience our experiences so that they can become transformational. Contemplation exposes our small self so that we can be open to our Big Self, which many of us call "God." This week we will explore what the contemplative mind is and how it is necessary—in some form—to allow us to rediscover our inherent divine "image" and grow into our "likeness" of God. Without contemplative consciousness, we live on the surface of our own experiences and our own self.

The world today tends to be cynical about most things. We have a hard time believing in an enchanted world, a sacred or benevolent universe. Why would we if we see only at the surface level? Everywhere we turn, every time we watch the news, we see suffering. We have become skeptical about God's goodness, humanity's possibilities, and our planet's future. We can't help seeing what is not and are often unable to recognize or appreciate what is. I see this temptation in myself almost every day. I have to pray and wait for a second gaze, a deeper seeing. This is my daily bread. From the very beginning, we see that nature is good, humans are good, and God is good. I have never met a loving human being who did not also believe in the foundational goodness of people and all of creation. We are sons and daughters of God, and all creatures are our brothers and sisters. We come forth from God, we have the privilege of co-creating with God, and we will return to God. Each being uniquely reflects part of the mystery of God for a while on this earth, before returning home. Remember, the divine image is objectively held by all people, but we each have to choose to grow in our likeness to God. That is our primary task on earth. God always sees and loves the image; we tend to get distracted by the likeness.

We must discover and accept what unique part of the divine mystery is ours to reflect. All each of us can give back to God is what God has already given to us. We must choose it, respect it, and allow it to blossom. The most courageous thing we will ever do is to bear humbly the mystery of our own reality, to trust our divine image and grow into God's likeness. It is simply a matter of becoming who we already are.

(Quoted from Fr. Richard Rohr)

"The Magnetic Hill Prayer Garden Association will be celebrating a Multilingual International Praying of the Rosary for Unity and Peace in the World, to be held at 6 PM on July 29, 2026, at the Prayer Garden located at Front Mountain Road, Moncton New Brunswick. All persons, including English and French, as well as from any other linguistic nations and cultures from around the world are invited to attend to recite the rosary in their own language and according to their own customs. All are welcome! Refreshments will be provided following the celebration. For more information, call (506) 871-3912. Please mark on your calendars! Thank you!"

Thank you for being a part of our parish grouping!
